Now Offering Video Verification

What is video verification?
Video verification enhances the effectiveness and safety of your security system. When a signal is sent to our monitoring center a short clip of the event that triggered an alarm is sent to the operator. This clip helps the central station operator confirm or dismiss the alarm quickly and reduces false alarm dispatches.

Improve your system's effectiveness.
It has been reported that roughly 95% of security signals are false alarms. Video verification helps reduce the potentially costly and time consuming hassle of having unnecessary police or EMS dispatch sent to your home or office for a false alarm. In some jurisdictions, false alarm dispatches result in fines for the customer. Video verification tackles this issue and makes your alarm system more effective and accurate.
